

REFUSED BY PHARMACY BOARD

Norfolk Applicant "Turned Down," and Now He Is Seeking the Reason.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., May 1.—Frank Colenda, a drug clerk employed at H. Smith & Company's drug store, at Colley Avenue and Onley Road, has been refused, so he alleges, an examination by the State Board of Pharmacy at Richmond for entrance into the field of registered pharmacists, and is at a loss to understand why, unlike any other American citizen who is duly qualified, his application for examination was turned down.

Mr. Colenda has spent several years in the drug business, and is regarded by his employer as a faithful and competent man. He went to Richmond about two weeks ago to prepare for the examination of pharmacists before the State Board, which was held on April 27. He spent two weeks with a pharmacist who makes a business of coaching aspirants for the examination, and at the end of that time, after a rigid "quizzing," the latter said that Mr. Colenda was fully competent to pass any examination the State Board could offer in pharmacy.

The young man then went before the board. His name had been entered and he understood that all was in readiness for the test. To his surprise, he states, after a whispered consultation between the five members of the board, Mr. Colenda was informed that he could not take the examination.

No Reason Given.
No reason was given him, but the flat-footed answer—that he couldn't take the test. Finally, after an argument, he was told that he was not qualified to take that specific examination, the reason assigned for this being based on some technicality which, he says, he has never been able to understand.

Mr. Colenda made application to take the examination two years ago, but never received any notification that the examination was to be held, and patiently waited. Recently he made inquiries and received a letter from Chief Secretary E. L. Brandes, saying if it should have presented himself for examination in 1907, and inasmuch as he had paid his fee of $5, which is deducted of all those who take the examination, he could present himself on April 27, 1909, and take the examination.

He had this letter, and when the answer refused his application, he showed it. They examined it hurriedly, while Mr. Colenda waited expectantly for their verdict. Finally T. A. Miller, secretary of the board, informed Mr. Colenda that he could not take the examination. He took this ultimatum and departed.

Just what reason the State Board of Pharmacy had for throwing out Mr. Colenda's application is a matter of mystery to him.

It was stated here last night that A. Miller, secretary of the board, had gone to Norfolk, so no statement could be made about the case in Richmond. The Norfolk correspondent of The Times-Dispatch was unable to locate them last night, although he telegraphed that he had not seen Colenda.

MAY RIOT IN ZION

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHICAGO, ILL., May 1.—Zion City is embroiled on the verge of riot. The city hall there is filled with heavily armed policemen, supporters of Voliva, while the independent or anti-Voliva faction insists that it will seat its city-elected officers.

A tearing that his opponents were planning to take possession of the city hall, Voliva had every entrance to the hall guarded.

BANKER IS INDICTED

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
KANSAS CITY, MO., May 1.—A grand jury charged with misappropriating $70,000 of funds of Lumber Company, charged with misappropriating about $100,000, W. B. Barthman, of Murren, a former president of the First National Bank of that city, and of the Lumber Company, was indicted on seven counts to-day by the grand jury.

EXPLOSION OF GAS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEW YORK, May 1.—Among the passengers who arrived to-night on the steamship Philadelphia, from Southampton and Cherbourg, was Mrs. William Bainbridge, bringing the body of her husband, Mr. Bainbridge, who was the special agent of the United States Treasury, who committed suicide in Paris.

Miss Mollie McCracken, of Fredericksburg, who has been very ill at her brother's, Eddie McCracken, on Ulton Street, near First Avenue, Highland Park, New York, and will be glad to see her friends.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Let there be no evasion—we mean chronic and supposed incurable cases involving dropsy, albumen and casts. They are curable in a great majority of all cases.

Let us cite a typical case—that of Mr. R. F. Nitschke, of 1248 Spaight Street, Madison, Wis. He has been eight physicians on this case and it got so extreme that he finally had one of the last symptoms; namely, falling asleep. In January, 1907, the doctors admitted that nothing further could be done, and they sent him to Parkersburg, Ark. He continued to get worse, the dropsy finally reaching the stomach, heart and lungs. At one time tests showed albumen as high as 75 per cent.

He learned of Fulton's Remedial Compound and began to take it July 30. Dropsy began slowly to decline and the albumen dropped to 10, then to 20, then to 10 and finally to 2 per cent, in May, 1908.

The patient is now back to his employment and is devoting full time to his business.

Patients desiring to know more of this treatment can get full literature by writing to the John J. Fulton Company, 212 First Street, San Francisco.

Fulton's Remedial Compound can be had in your city at Owens & Minor Drug Co.

We desire every patient to write us who is not getting the usual improvement by the third week.

News of Manchester

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch,

1102 Hull Street.

That the course of true love never did run smooth was brought home to a citizen of Manchester yesterday. It ended with his being returned to his family with a much battered heart and with his affinity leaving for her home in Mecklenburg county, a sadder, but wiser woman. She was good enough to request the police of the city to let the matter drop on account of innocent children, so the man will go unpunished except by his own conscience.

For a number of years he has been an employee of a railroad, and up to a short while ago he was a member of a band. He is married, and has two children. At the manoeuvres at Chase City three years ago he met a young woman at the Mecklenburg Hotel, and after a correspondence covering the three years they decided to be married.

On Wednesday she came to the city prepared for the elopement to Washington. Unfortunately, on the following morning they missed the train, and on Friday the prospective bridegroom was suddenly called to Portsmouth "on business for the company," he said. In the meantime a man who had known him from childhood saw him on the street with the young woman, and remarked that he was already married. This was a revelation to the friends with whom she was staying, and she herself was indignant.

Police Take the Case.
In order to have the matter thrashed out to the bottom, it was suggested that the police be called in to take charge of the case. Accordingly Sergeant Wright and Policeman Waymire last night stationed themselves in the back parlor of the house, after having had her make an engagement for $300.00. He was exactly on the street with the young woman, and confronted him with the fact that he was a married man. He denied it vehemently. Although they assured the girl they had known him since he was a boy she refused to believe them, saying that he had never deceived her, and that she had to be shown. Nothing loath, the policeman told her to get on her wraps and go with them. The man was rather reluctant, but started out, still protesting his innocence.

For some time they trudged through the mud, until Sergeant Wright, who was in the lead, announced that they were but a short distance from his erstwhile abode. It was at this juncture that the bridegroom-to-be broke down, saying to the officers: "You have called my hand, I don't know what to do about it."

Indignant, the wife stated that they had been married for twelve years, and that a matter of additional proof she produced two children and her husband's grandmother, who bore her out in her statements. The man then admitted all, and made many promises, while the affluents wept and said that she would have mercy on the innocent ones, for which he was profoundly grateful.

On the eve of her departure in Chase

City she stated to the police that he had represented himself to her as being almost a millionaire, and said that he played in the hands merely as a pastime. They were to have been married in Washington. From there they were going to Baltimore and thence to his summer home near Boston. She was very sorry that the dream did not come true, but grateful to the officers for putting her wise. The wife is not yet satisfied.

Mrs. C. S. Wells Dead.
Mrs. C. S. Wells died yesterday morning at her home, 1520 Porter Street, after a long illness. She is survived by her husband, who is an employee of the Southern Railway, a daughter, Miss Bessie Wells, a teacher in the public schools, and two sons—L. W. and Cornelius Wells. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the grave in Maury Cemetery.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Bainbridge Street Baptist Church will hold its regular monthly meeting next Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Brainer, 1202 Decatur Street. An address will be made by Mrs. W. S. Leek.

Claude Jones was before Mayor Maurice yesterday morning charged with being drunk and disorderly. No fine was imposed upon him, but being a stranger he was allowed fifteen minutes to make a get-away.

Lonnie Skinner was drunk, too. Lonnie is a citizen, so he was asked to part with $2.50 and the costs and allowed to remain in the town.

Nancy Allen and Jennie Cheatham were charged with being drunk and disorderly and creating disturbances in the street. Nancy was discharged, but her companion, who was assessed the amount of $1 and costs.

Mrs. J. S. Brooks, of Decatur Street, who leaves to-morrow for New York and other Northern points.

The sacred cantata, Lorenz's "Reconciliation," which was to have been rendered at Bainbridge Street Baptist Church May 7, has been postponed to May 10.

A musical will be given at 715 Stockton Street Tuesday night for the benefit of Decatur Street Church.

James Cox, owner of Belgravia, Stock Farm, is a guest of W. J. Carter. Mr. Cox is en route home after a visit to New York.

CONCRETE PLANT.
Urbanna Will Erect One and Make Its Own Blocks.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
URBANA, VA., May 1.—The Urbanna Town Council, at its last meeting, fully investigated the various propositions and plans offered for the paving of the sidewalks of the town, and came to the conclusion that the most economical and feasible plan to have the work done was to purchase the machinery and establish a concrete plant of its own. With that purpose in view, the Street Committee was instructed to purchase the necessary machinery for the plant and the cement blocks manufactured here at much less cost than with brick or other material.

the Corporation Commission, and the officials of the roads at interest were heard, after which the Commission informed the officials that a ruling will be made later.

Notable officials participating in the conference were General Manager J. R. Kenly and General Counsel Elliott, of the Atlantic Coast Line; Colonel A. S. Andrews, of the Southern; Receiver H. K. Wolcott, Superintendent R. P. Foster, of the Norfolk and Southern. The Southern and Coast Line want the Norfolk and Southern to pay $25,000 for one-third interest in the Union Station, while Receiver Wolcott, offers only to bear one-third of the running expenses of the depot and one-third of the interests on bonds.

Elaborate Plans Made for Exhibition
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
DANVILLE, VA., May 1.—Plans for the holding of a big agricultural and industrial fair in Danville next October are progressing rapidly and the movement promises to be even more successful than was at first contemplated by the promoters. The stock already subscribed is more than enough to finance the project. The fair here this fall will be the first one Danville has had for many years and the citizens are already subscribed more than enough to finance every assistance to assure its success.

Over $4,000 in premiums has been offered by the fair association for various exhibits. This does not include the prizes offered by local merchants and manufacturers. As Danville is located in the heart of the famous bright tobacco growing belt of Virginia and North Carolina, the most extensive and interesting exhibitions will likely be the products of the tobaccoists and warehousemen have contributed liberally towards the tobacco display, at which will be seen the finest grades of the weed grown in the world. Handsome prizes will be offered for other agricultural and manufacturing exhibits.

The fair movement was started and is backed by the Danville Commercial Association. A. W. Douthett, a prominent tobaccoist and real estate man of Danville, is the president of the fair association.

FARMER'S SUDDEN DEATH.
Found Dead With His Head Thrust in Corn Basket.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 1.—His head thrust into the basket in which he had been shucking corn, Bryce McLaughlin, a prominent farmer of the county, was found dead at his home near Newells, this morning. Mr. Mc-

Laughlin had gone out to feed his stock, and his body was not discovered until he failed to appear for breakfast. He was in excellent health and spirits when he left the house. He was sixty years old, and is survived by a widow, four daughters and two sons.

Stafford Nominated.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
GREENSBORO, N. C., May 1.—At the second primary election here to-day for the Democratic nomination, which is equivalent to an election of a candidate for Mayor, J. J. Stafford, tobacco manufacturer, received 458 votes and B. H. Merrimon, a retired manufacturer and capitalist, received 227 votes, giving Stafford the nomination. At the primary Tuesday, with three candidates, the vote was: Merrimon, 218; McLennan, 235; Stafford, 405.
